Keynote Address: Life at the Edge of Science

Dr. Beverly Rubik received her PhD in biophysics from the University of California at Berkeley and was a faculty member at San Francisco State University from 1979 to 1988. She has been director of the Center for Frontier Sciences at Temple University since 1988 and is presently a member of the advisory panel of the Office of Alternative Medicine at the National Institutes of Health. A deep interest in the reunion of science and spirit has led to research on consciousness interacting with the physical realm.

In her presentation to the Professional Membership, Dr. Rubik addressed three frontier science areas under exploration by the Center that challenge the dominant paradigm. These are the mind-matter interrelationship (consciousness research), bioeletromagnetics, and complementary medicine (particularly energy medicine). An overview of the Center's work for the past six years was also given, with a strong focus on the mind-matter realm. This article is condensed, with Dr. Rubik's permission, from "Three Frontier Areas of Science That Challenge the Paradigm" and includes the original references. The complete paper was published by The Center for Frontier Sciences in Frontier Perspectives, vol. 3, no. 1 (Fall 1992).
